Welcome to CPI's Medicines Manufacturing Innovation Centre

CPI is a technology innovation catalyst that supports the adoption of advanced technologies and manufacturing solutions to benefit people, places, and our planet.

The Medicines Manufacturing Innovation Centre is a collaboration led by CPI, located in Renfrewshire, in the Glasgow City Region, beside the National Manufacturing Institute Scotland (NMIS) and at the heart of the Advanced Manufacturing Innovation District Scotland (AMIDS), Scotland's home of manufacturing innovation.

Utilising a Grand Challenge model, CPI and its partners are building a portfolio of large, transformational collaborative projects designed to address the key challenges raised by industry consortia. The Centre is a globally-unique GMP facility for innovation in medicines manufacture, enabling digitally disruptive technologies to be proven at scale, and resulting in a minimised environmental impact, and ultimately, improved patient outcomes.
